DOCTORAL WORKSHOP: A New Man for the Socialist Society, Pula, August 30 – September 2, 2017

Third year in a row CKPIS and Department of History (Faculty of Humanities, Juraj Dobrila University of Pula) are organising a three-day summer workshop for PhD students. In 2015 the topic was The History of Everyday Life in Socialist Yugoslavia, while in 2016 the title was Yugoslav Socialism: Similarities and Exceptionalities. Last two workshops were held in Pula and at Brijuni Islands with professors and PhD students from a dozen universities and institutes. This year the topic is related to the research project Making of the Socialist Man. Several researchers will deliver lectures based on their work within the project. ## PROJECT WORKSHOP: Making of the Socialist Man, Pula, April 6-8, 2017

Three-day workshop was organised by the research project Making of the Socialist Man: Croatian Society and the Ideology of Yugoslav Socialism, whose principal investigator is Igor Duda. (Read more) Nine other researchers (Anita Buhin, Lada Duraković, Hrvoje Klasić, Boris Koroman, Andrea Matošević, Magdalena Najbar-Agičić, Igor Stanić, Teodora Fonović Cvijanović and Vanessa Vitković Marčeta) presented their results which will be published in an edited volume in a couple of months. Lectures were also held by invited speakers Ulf Brunnbauer, Ivana Dobrivojević, Maciej Czerwiński and Reana Senjković.

CONFERENCES

- First Annual Graduate Conference on the History of European Integration - Florence: 18-20 September 2017

The Graduate Conference is a unique conference specifically for PhD students and early career researchers to discuss ongoing research related to the history of European integration, broadly conceived. The Graduate Conference consists of panel sessions focused on submitted research papers, as well as debates on historiographical... (Read more)

- New Approaches to the History of the Jews under Communism – Prague: 23-25 May 2017

One of the aims of our conference is therefore to start a dialogue between scholars focused on the Jews of the Soviet Union and those working on Jewish history in the pro-Soviet regimes of east-central and eastern Europe, because there has been, for various reasons, little cooperation between these two groups of scholars... - Hydroimperialism, Hydrocapitalism, Communism and Crises – Lisbon: 6-7 July 2017

We primarily focused on African colonies of Portugal and formally independent communist countries of Eastern Europe, which we see as a part of the informal soviet empire... We are principally interested in papers dealing directly with dam building, but papers dealing with other water governance projects... \(Read more\)

- Conflicted Bodies: Feminist and Queer Responses to Militarism and Violence since 1900 - London: 30 September 2017

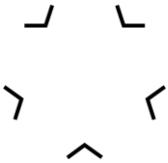

How might logics of militarism, patriarchy and heteronormativity be enmeshed and interdependent? By the same token, how might feminist, queer and pacifist politics draw on each other in the struggle for equality and against war? How do cultural representations in the media, art and literature shape and normalize... \(Read more\)

- Socialist Internationalism and the Global Contemporary – Transnational Art Historiographies from Eastern and East-Central Europe – Leipzig: 23-25 November 2017

Our inquiry, therefore, targets the complex level of art historiography as connected with cultural politics and diplomacy, the participation of art historians in international initiatives from the end of World War II up to the period after 1989-91. All contributions are expected to operate with a narrative framework larger than a single country. \(Read more\)

- Spaces of Interaction between the Socialist Camp and the Global South. Knowledge Production, Trade, and Scientific-Technical Cooperation in the Cold War Era
Leipzig: 26-27 October 2017

In what we call “spaces of interaction”, we intend to examine contact and exchanges of actors from the Soviet bloc and from the Global South. These spaces, to a certain extent, emerged and functioned beyond – or at the margins of – national control and opened up pathways into “the world”. \(Read more\)

- After Socialism: Forgotten Legacies and Possible Futures in Africa and Beyond – Bayreuth: 13-14 October 2017

This workshop builds on this scholarship with the aim of pushing this broad investigation further. We seek to explore the intellectual transformations that have occurred since the end of “scientific”, “African” or “Arab” socialisms—political ideologies that were once confident, but have since faded. How can villages play a political role if they aren't even mentioned by the laws? - Call to show support for Central European University (From CEU webiste)

On April 10, 2017, President of the Republic of Hungary Janos Ader signed into law amendments to Hungary's national higher education legislation which restrict academic freedom for CEU and other international universities operating in Hungary. CEU strongly disagrees with this decision and, accordingly, continues to pursue all available legal remedies. Further, CEU calls on the Hungarian government to display the "mutual good will" called for by President Ader to find a solution to enable CEU to stay in Budapest. We remain deeply grateful to the thousands of supporters whose vigorous defense of free inquiry, free exchange of knowledge, and free institutions of learning continues to encourage us.
